Mocaf Flour (Cassava Flour)

Mocaf flour is a gluten-free flour made from fresh cassava roots that have been naturally fermented, dried, and finely milled. Through the fermentation process, the flour develops a neutral taste, white color, and soft texture, making it an excellent alternative to wheat flour. Mocaf is widely used in bakery, pastry, noodles, snacks, and various gluten-free food applications.

Key Benefit:

Gluten-Free Alternative

Suitable for people with gluten intolerance or celiac disease, making it ideal for healthy and specialty diets

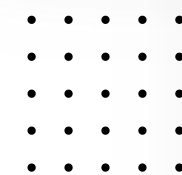

Neutral Taste & Versatile Use

Its mild flavor and soft texture allow it to be used in bread, cakes, noodles, and snacks without altering the original taste.

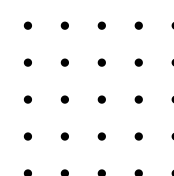

Supports Local Agriculture

Made from cassava, Mocaf flour strengthens local farming communities and promotes sustainable food resources.
